CIMARRON, NEW MEXICO

Happenings of the Week at Raton

From the Raton Range.
Thomas Fisher of Cimarron spent Saturday in the city on business.

C. R. Van Houten from Cimarron was in the city Saturday on business.

Miss Nelle Davis and Miss Maggie Smith, both teachers from Dawson, were in the city Saturday shopping.

Cimarron is to have a new newspaper—a sure sign of growth, enterprise and progress.—Las Vegas Optic.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Charet of Cimarron returned to their home on Saturday, after a day's shopping in Raton.

Frank Burnett of Cimarron was in Raton on business last week and returned to his home on Saturday evening. Mr. Burnett is the owner of a large sawmill near Cimarron.

Bud Spruill and family moved to Van Houten early in the week. Mr. Spruill was a brakeman here for the Santa Fe, but resigned his position to go to work as a clerk for the company store at Van Houten.

Mrs. James Thompson of DuQuoin, Ill., arrived in the city Friday for a visit with Mrs. Bob Thompson. After a short stay here Mrs. Thompson will join her husband at Crow Creek, where they expect to make their home.

Now that the Swastika Route has an every day train, Sunday included, Cimarron will have many Raton visitors who can go on Sunday but are busy other days. This is a good thing for both towns. Shoppers can now come up on Saturday reaching here at twelve noon, and return Sunday, leaving here at 2 o'clock.

Charles Springer went to Vermejo early in the week and shipped thirty cars of steers to Colorado points.

Office buildings are being built for the Cimarron Townsite company and for the Maxwell Land Grant company, on sites selected north of the railroad.

Death of Mrs. Harry Smith

From the Raton Range.

Mrs. Harry Smith died suddenly at noon on Sunday at the residence of F. H. Gorton, on South Second street, between Rio Grande and Apache avenues. Funeral services were held at two o'clock on Wednesday at the Methodist Episcopal church, Father Sinnock, the retired minister, officiating. Mrs. Smith was about sixty years of age and had lived here and in this vicinity for the past twenty years. Her husband is a rancher near Yauke, and when in town they made their home in one of three houses which they owned on South Second street. Mrs. Smith came to Raton to spend Christmas, but returned to the ranch on account of sickness. During holiday week she came back for treatment. She expired from heart failure while sitting at a table on Sunday drinking beef tea. She left no relatives in this section, besides her husband, although two sisters reside in Wilkesbarre, Pa.

SOME GOOD ONES FROM THE FARMINGTON ENTERPRISE.

Miss Jennie Jones and Bob Henry were married at the Jones mansion last night. The bride is the daughter of our worthy constable, Jones, who made a good officer, and will undoubtedly be re-elected next spring. He offers a fine horse for sale in another column.

The groom runs a grocery store on Main street and is a good patron of our advertising columns, and has a good line of bargains this week. All the summer he paid two cents more for butter than any other store in town.

The happy couple left on the ten o'clock train for Milwaukee to visit the bride's uncle, who is reported to have lots of money and Bright's disease. Bob certainly has an eye to business.—Coolidge (North Carolina) Banner.

"For Sale—George Martin's bicycle on account of non-use, George having died a month ago."—Leesville (Colo.) Light.

We report with deep regret the death of Mme. Aframmah, of Low Town, which took place on the evening of the twelfth instant. She was buried next day with the amateur brass band.—Gold Coast Journal.

M. M. White—For coroner. Mr. White is a local minister, also a first class shoemaker. He is a man of excellent habits, and a good judge of humanity.—Salem (Oregon) Daily Capital Journal.

STOCKMAN NOTES.

From the Raton Range.

On the 21st of this month the old city of Santa Fe is going to become one of the liveliest in the Territory and remain that way for sixty days. The people over there are already discussing the spending qualities and have all the "pikers" sized up. Of the Colfax county members we must say, Mr. Abbott will be a social leader and you need not go to a saloon to find him. His wife is going along to assist him in upholding the dignity of his position. M. B. (Thike) Stockton is as well known in Santa Fe as old San Miguel church, and the people know what to expect of him. He will not be "taken in" by anybody, as he is an old-timer and has lost all desire to win all the gold he sees on the green or drink up all the booze in sight (if he ever had it.) E. E. Studley has recently married, and of course will not be found around o' nights late, going home in the early morning in a zig-zag way with a pawn ticket in his pocket where his watch was and everything looking hazy about. He will be found looking over a bill he has drawn and wondering what objections there could be to it. For the life of us we can't see any great boom for Santa Fe as far as our legislative members are concerned.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sherrod of Raton were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Webster at the Uracea ranch Sunday.

James Rodgers, of the Remsburg Mercantile Co., of Raton, was in town last Monday and remained for a few days.

Frederic Whitney has just had completed a handsome new water wagon. A number of Cimarron young men have been on it since the first of the year, and Mr. Whitney has been compelled to keep it chained up.

Albert Van Dyke of Dawson was in town last Sunday.

A Daily Service

On Sunday the regular schedule of the St. Louis, Rocky Mountain & Pacific road was changed to a daily instead of a daily except Sunday schedule. The officials of the road are themselves surprised at the amount of both freight and passenger traffic which the road has received since the inauguration of train service on Dec. 10. An average of more than seventy-five passengers each way has been maintained, the number going over the hundred mark on several trips. A considerable amount of baggage and express is carried on every train, and the freight traffic has been exceptionally heavy. On Jan. 15 the mail contract will be transferred to the railroad people, pending readjustment of contracts and new arrangements. The roadbed is being put in better condition every day, and by the time the traffic gets heavy toward spring, a fast schedule will be maintained and the service will be as good as any transcontinental route.

SPRINGER STOCKMAN NOTES.

From the Raton Range.

Irwin Floersheim is visiting in the city this week from Roy.

James Livingston of Cimarron was here Monday on business.

George G. King is in Kansas on business, leaving last Saturday.

Quite a number of out of town people enjoyed themselves at the masquerade ball here Tuesday evening.

The family of George W. Warder returned from Raton Wednesday where they spent the holidays with relatives.

Mrs. A. Scherrer, W. H. Cotler and Justice of the Peace George Milner, were here from Cimarron Monday, all returning home Tuesday.

The Gillespie boys, with Mr. Stevens, returned to their school duties at Santa Fe this week after spending the holidays at home with their parents.

Mrs. Kate Keenan and daughter Rena returned home Monday from Dawson, where they spent a few days visiting with the family of L. B. Reynolds.

W. H. Willeox was in the city yesterday from his home at Roy on business.
